

The Constitution was created to govern the Government, not the people, and not the states, each of which is a guardian of its own sovereignty.

The Constitution Our Firm Foundation

IT WASN'T what Government did that made America great. It was what Government was prevented from doing that made the difference.

WHAT SET America apart from other lands was freedom for the individual. Freedom to work, to produce, to succeed and especially to keep the fruits of one's labor.

AMERICA BECAME great precisely because the stifling effect of too much government had been prevented.

HOWEVER FREEDOM in America was not totally unrestrained, Americans overwhelmingly chose to limit their actions with moral codes such as the biblical Ten Commandments.

PERSONAL MORALITY and Limited Government; it's the combination that characterized America and made it the envy of the world.

THE CENTRAL GOVERNMENT was created with strictly limited powers leaving the states to compete with one another to become the best state, the one with least amount of taxation and controls, one where citizens would want to build a business and raise a family.

That spirit of competition produced excellence as honest competition always does.

The Bill of Rights Should Have Been Named The Bill of Limitations on Government

It's vital to realize that The Bill of Rights never gave citizens any rights whatsoever. It's Sole Purpose: Safeguard God-given rights by limiting government power.

Our founders insisted that the government shall make no law about Speech, Religion, Assembly, The Press, Petitioning, Bearing Arms and so on...

These laws are directed squarely at the Federal Government, not the individual and not the States.

State Controlled Economies

(The difference between these is how much is owned or controlled outright by the government.)

COMMUNISM - ALL capital is owned and controlled by the State. No pretenses.

SOCIALISM - Gov't acquires major industries like transportation, utilities, and communications to leverage control over entire economy.

NAZISM (National Socialism) - Like Fascism except Hitler owned many larger companies like Volkswagon.

FASCISM - Gov't doesn't own but does control businesses. More efficient, because owners think they still own, but are really controlled by an array of taxation and regulation.

- Monarchy - (Or Dictatorship) Ruled by One
- Oligarchy - Ruled by a Few
- Democracy - Ruled by a Majority
- Republic - Ruled by Law
- Anarchy - Ruled by No One
